

The leading trade fair for security
20 – 23 September 2022, Essen

INTERNATIONAL START-UP AREA

The opportunity for start-ups Meet the experts here

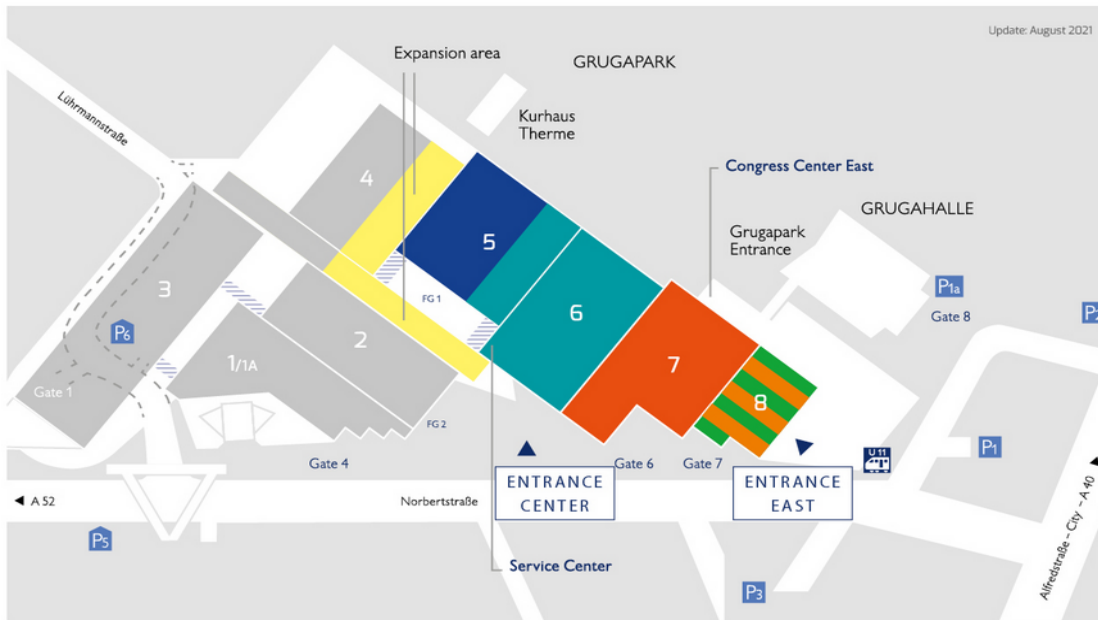

The security sector is diverse and always changing. The demands placed on state-of-the-art technologies and processes are increasing and becoming challenging. That means international start-ups, with their innovative and individual business ideas, have become essential and are providing important impetus in many areas of the industry. For the first time, security essen 2020 is providing newly founded companies with a platform to present their future-oriented ideas and solutions, in Hall 7.

Good reasons to be represented:

- Make use of this central, comprehensive platform and ensure widespread visibility of your company with your participation.
- Impress established companies in the industry with your innovative ideas.
- Establish important contacts and build your network.
- Expand your knowledge – through the informative supporting trade fair programme.
