Asia's Security Innovations in One Dedicated Space

At security essen 2026, taking place from 22–25 September, a brand-new highlight is set to make its debut: SecurAsia – the first-ever dedicated exhibition hall exclusively reserved for Asian exhibitors. This special showcase brings together the full diversity and innovation power of Asia's security industry.

For exhibitors, SecurAsia provides a focused stage to connect with Europe's decision-makers, distributors, and industry leaders. The dedicated hall design ensures maximum visibility and impact, while a separate catalog listing makes every participating company even easier to find and connect with.

Exhibitors benefit from a premium presentation environment that highlights the growing global importance of Asian security solutions and opens the door to valuable business partnerships.

With SecurAsia, security essen 2026 once again underscores its role as the leading international meeting point for the industry – now with a dedicated platform that celebrates Asia's rising influence and delivers true added value for both exhibitors and visitors alike. Don't miss this must-see hub for innovation, networking, and international business opportunities – only at security essen 2026.
